

'68 First Hand Play

Creating this play we wanted to do more than just accompany the program of the exhibition. Above all, we aimed to create something that would bring the events of the year 1968 closer to young people, and I do believe we have managed that. The students' theater Rusalka, which operates at the Department of Russian and East European Studies, took an active part in this role - spectators in Bratislava, Poprad and Michalovce could see the play thanks to their dedicated work.
